

April	Date	Time	Venue	Title	Description
	1	7:30 - 9:45pm	McCormick 101	Screening: Bread and Roses	Part of a series of screenings and talks on social justice and labor issues run by Princeton for Worker Rights, with introduction and discussion with Prof Patricia Fernandez-Kelly. Ken Loach tells the story of Maya (Elpidia Carrillo), a young, ambitious illegal immigrant from Mexico who joins organizer Sam (Adrien Brody) in his efforts to unionize her fellow workers. Loach illuminates the murky waters of contemporary American labor issues with his characteristically keen eye for exploitation and social inequality.
	3	8-10pm	Frist 100 level	Asian Festival Opening Ceremony	Sponsored by the Asian Heritage Council and Center Stage, the Asian Festival is the traditional event of the Asian Heritage Month. On April 3, the Festival will open with a casual while festive opening ceremony at Frist 100 level. Join us for Asian games, learn Sushi-making, enjoy a variety of Asian performances including Wildcats, Triple 8, Tapcats, Princeton Chinese Theatre and faceoff, or just come for the free Asian food! Don't miss out the fun! You don't have to be Asian to come!
	3 - 5	10pm	Carl A. Fields Center	Princeton Caribbean Connection: A Taste of Carnival	This 3-day event will offer unique academic and social experiences for our entire campus. Conference lectures and forums will draw from a variety of fields and spheres, but one focus will be the evolution and development of religions in the Caribbean. In addition to these forums, we will sponsor performances drawing from a range of Caribbean art forms, a movie night, an exciting cultural show, and a banquet featuring the various flavors of Caribbean cuisine which will integrate the cultural and academic aspects of our conference. It is our intent with this conference to celebrate not only the diversity which the student body represents, but also to access and gain a better understanding of the diversity that exists beyond our campus.
	7	3-5pm	19 University Place, Great Room (1st Floor)	"Tragedy and Revolution," David Scott, Columbia U	3rd of the series "Conversations on Tragedy and the Post colony with Professor Tim Reiss" presented by the Department of Comparative Literature of New York University. Professor Reiss, Professor Emeritus and NYU Distinguished Scholar in Residence, will moderate the three "Conversations" of this series. David Scott, Columbia University, is author of Formations of Ritual: Colonial and Anthropological Discourses on the Sinhala Yaktovil (1994), Refashioning Futures: Criticism after Postcoloniality (1999), Conscripts of Modernity: The Tragedy of Colonial Enlightenment (2004) and co-editor of Powers of the Secular Modern: Talal Asad and His Interlocutors (2006). He is editor of Small Axe review.
	8	(1) 8-10pm (2) 4pm	(1) Café Vivian (2) Woolworth	(1) Evening Concert by "The Romanian-American Jazz Suite" (2) Workshop on influences on Romanian & Balkan music in jazz	The "Romanian Students & Scholars Association" in collaboration with Prof. Margaret Beissinger from the Slavic Department is inviting a group of jazz musicians to give a concert and a lecture on the Princeton campus. The group is called "The Romanian-American Jazz Suite", result of a partnership between pianist Lucian Ban and soprano sax Sam Newsome, plus other gifted musicians who got together to present Romanian Folk music from a jazz perspective. According to their press kit, in 2008 their CD bearing the same name was released to critical acclaim to both US and European audiences, followed by successful tours on both sides of the Atlantic. There will be an evening concert in Cafe Vivian on April 8, preceded by a lecture/workshop on the influences of Romanian & Balkan music in jazz. There will also be a workshop on jazz & Balkan influences at 4 pm in Woolworth (Music Department) that same day that will introduce students to the particularly flavorful kind of musical fusion promoted by the "Romanian-American Jazz Suite".
	9	(1) 7pm (2) 8pm (3) 9pm	Mathey Common Room	Learn to DRUM and DANCE with the African Drummers - from Opening Exercises	(1) Dance Workshop (2) Drum Workshop (3) Drum Performance ~ Come to a Dance Workshop featuring styles from the Ivory Coast, a Drum Workshop featuring styles from Guinea, Mali, and Senegal, and a Drumming Performance! Delicious injera and appetizers from Makeda's Ethiopian Restaurant in New Brunswick. Admission is FREE to all Princeton Students and their Guests.
	9	8-11pm	Woodrow Wilson Fountain	Obon Festival	Moonlight, soft breeze, and lit lanterns glowing in the water fountain--sounds too surreal? It's all happening at the Obon Festival! Enjoy the serene night with bubble tea and the company of your friends, as we send out our blessings at the Woodrow Wilson Fountain! Come join us setting out the lanterns and watch your own wishes come true!
	10	5:30pm	Bendheim Center for Finance	The Spiritual Art of Islamic Calligraphy	The Spiritual Art of Islamic Calligraphy: A Presentation by Aishah Holland, Renowned Calligrapher. Sponsored by the Muslim Life Program. Questions? e-mail: rsultan@princeton.edu .
	10	6:30pm	Liberation Hall, Carl A. Fields Center	HKSA Banquet 2009: "The Global Financial Crisis and Its Implications for Hong Kong and Asia's Capital Markets"	Come to Hong Kong Students Association's annual banquet and dinner discussion featuring visiting Professor JC de Swaan from the Economics Department as our keynote speaker. Professor de Swaan is currently teaching a joint undergraduate and graduate course on the rise of Asian capital markets and was an investment professional at Sansar Capital, one of the largest global long-short equities Asia-dedicated hedge funds, for three years. This year, he will be sharing his perspective on how the financial crisis has affected Asia's markets, especially Hong Kong. $7 at the doorSemiformal attire requested
	11	11am	Poe Field	ISAP Mini World Cup	The International Students At Princeton are holding their annual "Mini World Cup Soccer Tournament" at Poe Field. 8 teams with over 100 players scheduled to compete and spectators are welcome to cheer on your favorite team or player.
	11	8pm	Frist Film & Performance Theatre	Adventures ~ Welcome To Our World	The Black Arts Company (BAC): Dance presents, "Adventures - Welcome To Our World" at 8 p.m. in the Frist Theatre starting on April 9th and running until April 11th. The cost is $6 for students (student event eligible) and free with Tiger Tickets, $8 for general admission and $6 for seniors.

	11	9pm-12am	Frist Multipurpose Room	Save Lives: Dance!!	The Student Global Aids Campaign and Princeton's Africa Development Initiative are hosting a dance-a-thon fundraiser. All proceed will fund oxygen concentrator machines for the pediatrics ward at the Kamuzu Central Hospital in Malawi. Join us for a fun filled night of dancing with a live DJ, prizes, performances, and food. Tickets can be purchased at the Frist Box Office or the day of at the door and cost only $7 (FREE with tiger ticket and prox!).
	16	4:30-6:30	Frist South Patio & Lawn	Spoken Word Hip-Hop	Workshop and performances by Comrade Fatso and Chabvondoka, Zimbabwe's leading protest band, and Outspoken and The Essence, one of the country's most cutting-edge spoken word hip-hop groups, featuring a soul-stirring, politically infused, eclectic mix of afro-punk hip-hop and poetry.
	16	6-8pm	Carl A. Fields Center	International Banquet	The International Banquet is a celebration of holiday food from different cultures. This year the banquet will include a delicious traditional Chinese Valentine's Day, Eastern Orthodox Easter and Easter cuisine. Student ID required at door. Cosponsors include ISAP, AHC, Davis International Center, Accion Latina and the Romanian Students and Scholars Association.
	17	1:30-6pm	Poe Field	Basant: Kite-flying festival that greets the arrival of spring in South Asia	SASA and Pehchaan are hosting a joint Basant Meal event on Poe Field during Prefrosh weekend. Basant itself is an Indian celebration of spring. The Basant Pancami festival was a five-day festival during the Magh month (Jan-Feb) when the fields are awash in mustard-seed flowers, and consisted of people dressing in mustard-color clothes and having a good time. Today, however, it is celebrated by people of all religious backgrounds, especially in the Northern India and province of Punjab in Pakistan. Basan Maila will hope to entertain the campus community with kite-flying, live South Asian music, Indian and Pakistani food, Hookahs, and Mehndi (Henna) among other things. What should come to your mind upon hearing the word Basant is a wildly colorful festival that covers the skies of Lahore with swooping triangles and its streets with gangs of bow-kata kids. On the family side, it is a great weekend when everyone dresses in mustard-hued fineries, climbs to the highest reachable point of their residences, puts on music and flies kites. On the professional circuit, it is a battle of skills and wits. Basan Maila will bring together all these images of joy to life and share them with the greater Princeton community.
	17	8-11pm	Frist Campus Center North Lawn	Asian Night Market	Asian Night Market 2009: Modeled after the feverish night markets in Asia, this outdoor fair is the largest annual Asian cultural event on campus with 10+ student groups involved. Come for a night filled with captivating performances, exciting games, and most of all - mouthwatering Asian food! $0.25 per Food and Activities Ticket - get 2 free with PUID! Things are going to be cheap! Performances by Johnny Hi-Five (live band), Sympoh, Triple 8, Phyllis Heitjan, Steve Kuei.
	18	8pm	James B. Stewart Theater 185 Nassau Street	Performance by Staceyann Chin	Staceyann Chin, a favorite at NYC's famous Nuyorican Poets Café, has won numerous poetry slam contests and has been recognized for her performances around the globe. She appeared on Russell Simmons Presents Def Poetry Jam on HBO and was an original cast member in its Tony Award-winning production on Broadway. She has also published a number of poetry books speaking about her life as an openly gay, Chinese-Jamaican, NYC artist and activist.
	18	11pm-2am	Colonial Club	Global Groove Night	Join the International Students Association at Princeton for Global Groove Night. Light refreshments, dancing and prizes that will include maracas and a drawing to win a Hookah! Music requests are encouraged and can be sent to isap@princeton.edu . ALL students are welcome!
	20	6-8pm	Rocky Dinning Hall	Discussing the US-Israel Relationship with Members of Congress	Panel discussion on the Tigers for Israel trip to Washington, D.C. last week and on the meetings that 20 Princeton students had with over 25 Members of Congress and their staffers. Those that attended the trip will reflect on their experience and discuss issues relating to the US-Israel relationship such as Iran and foreign aid to Israel. The dinner is open to the public.
	20	7:30pm	McCormick 101	Screening of "Slingshot Hip Hop" by the Princeton Committee on Palestine	At the cutting edge of this emerging Middle Eastern youth culture, Slingshot Hip Hop is a fresh, complex, and energizing window into contemporary life in Palestine and Israel, and into one of the many identities that Arabs are exploring today. Slingshot Hip Hop braids together the stories of young Palestinians living in Israel, Gaza, and the West Bank as they discover hip hop and employ it as a tool to surmount divisions imposed by occupation and poverty. From internal checkpoints and separation walls to gender norms and generational differences, this is the story of young people crossing the borders that separate them. Slingshot Hip Hop is a reflection of the rappers themselves, an inspiring union between the Palestinian struggle and this Black American art form gone global.
	21	7-8:30pm	Bowl 16, Robertson Hall	Bhopal gas tragedy 2nd generation survivors to address Princeton University Students and the general public	Bhopal Survivors to Tour U.S., Anticipating 25th Anniversary of Chemical Disaster: On April 21st 2009, Princeton's Association for India's Development in collaboration with the International Campaign for Justice in Bhopal (www.bhopal.net) will be hosting two second-generation survivors of the 1984 Bhopal gas tragedy. A public address by the survivors is planned to mark the 25th anniversary of the disaster.
	23-25	8pm	Frist Campus Center	diSiac Spring Show: "diSiac Dance Company presents: Possession"
	23	10:30pm-12:30am	Dillon Gymnasium	Dillon After Hours	Have any special plans on Thursday night? Why not check out the Asian American Students Association's annual "Dillon After Hours" event?! Hosted at Dillon Gymnasium, this free event is open to the entire Princeton student body from 10:30 pm to 12:30 am on Thursday, April 23. Drop by and put your technique to test on the courtyards, challenge yourself at your favorite video games, heat up the dance floor with our DJ's music and sink your teeth into great food from Taco Bell, Domino's and White Castle! See you there!
	24-27	TBA	TBA	Visions and Revisions: Charting a Common Future for the U.S. and Arab World	Details to follow with the date and location.

	24	6 - 8pm	Rocky Dinning Hall	Global Health & Innovation Discussion	Princeton African Development Initiative (PADI) panel discussion on the Annual Global Health Conference that took place earlier this year at Yale. Those that attended the conference will reflect on recent findings and discuss international development and global health concerns and issues. The dinner is open to the public.
	24	8-10pm	Mathey Common Room	Asian Heritage Month Closing Ceremony	The Asian Heritage Month closes with our banquet featuring a variety of Asian food and cultural performances. Come for harmonica, Triple 8, violin, Princeton Chinese Theatre, etc! Don't miss out the AHC fun!
	25	10am	Carl A. Fields Center	Capoeira's annual event	It will include indoor and outdoor performances with special guests from Brazil, our yearly graduation ceremony, dance workshops and a dance party with a live Brazilian band.
	25	12pm	Campus Wide	Communiversity	The close of the International Festival month the "Global Village" at this year's Communiversity takes place at Nassau Green from Noon-5 p.m. and will include international arts, crafts, food, music, and performances, as well as a lion-and-dragon parade led bag-piped lag procession starting at 2 p.m. on Nassau Street.